

"IncoPat Global Patent Literature Database" reopens for trial

Website: <http://210.34.85.102/v3/gourl.asp?rid=601>

Trial period: 09/23/2019-12/22/2019

Login method: campus network IP control mode (open the website, click "IP login")

Platform introduction:

Beijing Incopat Co., Ltd (short as "INCOPAT" ) is the world's leading intellectual property information service provider. It has an industry-leading product development and service team and has formed a global professional service network. The company has successfully developed the incoPat technology innovation information platform, incoMonitor INCOPAT innovation monitoring system, and INCOPAT APP and other star products.

The incoPat technology innovation information platform is China's first patent database with independent intellectual property rights. It stands out in Chinese market with comprehensive data collection, fastest update speed and excellent user experience - winning the championship in the first IP tools competition organized by the State Intellectual Property Office in 2017.

The incoPat comprehensively collects hundreds of millions of patent documents of 112 countries, organizations or regions, and the data is updated within 48 hours. For the first time, it has truly realized the global patent information through Chinese search, and deeply integrated various legal information, established the first domestic library search. It has also created the very first rapid screening of massive data as rated by IncoPat value level, which provides the most comprehensive information and the most accurate analysis.

The incoPat has been widely recognized in related industries, and more than 1,000 organizations including enterprises, universities, and legal services have become incoPat users. More than 70% of companies listed in TOP100 innovation are using incoPat, including Huawei, ZTE, JD.com, Xiaomi, Midea, Gree and other well-known technology companies. More than 40% of intellectual patents service organization have become loyal users of IncoPat.

In the future, INCOPAT will provide the most professional intellectual property information services in the world to more customers in the spirit of “simple, extreme and sharing” .

IncoPatV6.0 after-sales training manual.pdf